It's not just about learning to dance or act or sing, the SPACE is a place for self-discovery. It's a place where young people learn to turn dreams into attainable goals; a place where feelings and energy within oneself can be expressed through movement and voice and other performing arts. Supporting the SPACE shows that you invest back into the rural community. It shows that you value the lifelong impact that participating in performing arts has on people of all ages.

Educational charities open doorways to greater knowledge and exposure, enhancing lives whether it be a shortterm or assisting a life long path.
